

GERMAN SEA RAIDER TAKES REFUGE IN U. S. PORT

KRON PRINZ WILHELM RUNS THROUGH LANE OF BRITISH WARSHIPS

Newport News, Va., April 12--How the German raider Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which came into this port Sunday morning was chased by British warships after midnight Saturday and barely escaped capture was described by officers of British merchant vessels destroyed by the Wilhelm in the South Atlantic.

Shortly before noon today the sixty-one British officers and men of the steamer Tamar and Colby were taken from the Wilhelm aboard a tug and rushed down the river to the British horse ship Cussonia, which will sail later today for Glasgow. The harbor was lined with British merchantships as the captives of the German raider were released and as their tug steamed by hundreds of British sailors lined the docks of their ships and cheered. When the liberated British tars reached the Cussonia's dock they tossed the remnants of their luggage aboard and danced around like school boys in anticipation of the trip to their native land, joyous that they had escaped death by the guns of their own country's warships Saturday night. Chased For Several Hours By British Warships "Did we see British ship Saturday night?" said W. G. Gray, chief engineer of the steamer Colby, sunk in the South Atlantic, March 27. "We certainly saw one and heard others. I saw about midnight way off on the horizon and she was chasing us from midnight on until we reached safety in the Virginia Capes about three o'clock Sunday morning. "Of course we were all put below every night at six o'clock, but I could see the dark dim outlines of the warship five or six miles distant after midnight. The Wilhelm seemed to be the fastest ship for as time went on the lines of the warship grew dimmer and dimmer until she disappeared in the distance. "Our escape to this port was perfectly marvelous. We were running with all lights out and at top speed from five o'clock Saturday afternoon when she headed directly west. "The Kron Prinz Wilhelm occupies an anchorage in the James river at almost identically the same spot selected by the Prinz Eitel when she reached here March 10. "The Kron Prinz Wilhelm was being provisioned today. Although Commander Thierfelder had asked for 300 tons of coal and supplies for three days, the federal authorities allowed him 150 tons of coal and provisions for three days. Had But 25 Tons of Coal And Small Store of Food "Before she began taking on coal and supplies the Kron Prinz Wilhelm had less than 25 tons of coal and scanty provisions for the crew of 600 men and sixty-one prisoners from British merchant ships destroyed by her in the South Atlantic. Captain Thierfelder has been given 24 hours in which to leave port unless he needed coal, provisions and time to make repairs. He was unable to determine what repairs were needed and naval officers will make an examination. Whether the Kron Prinz Wilhelm will make another dash to sea could not be learned here early today, although Commander Thierfelder expressed the hope that he would be able to do so. It is generally believed, that he will turn his ship. Has Sunk 14 Vessels Worth Seven Millions Officers and crew of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm recounted today (Continued On Page 6)

Robert T. Lincoln, son of the late Abraham Lincoln, and president of the Pullman company, has been called as a witness in the investigation being made in Chicago by the federal industrial commission into the wages paid porters on Pullman cars. Much testimony has already been introduced to show that the company pays the porters such low wages that they must depend on tips to eke out a living.

TWO NAVAL BATTLES BELIEVED UNDER WAY

London, April 12--No official information yet has been furnished concerning the naval engagement reported to have taken place off the coast of Norway. While awaiting details of this action, the British public has been kept interested by the news of sounds of firing off Scarborough on the east coast, the scene of one of the most sensational of the German naval raids. France continues to report progress in the Argonne and beyond the Meuse. At the same time the French authorities admit that the German counter-attacks have been exceedingly fierce and that one recaptured in the recapture of a trench. At Epargues the French have not advanced beyond the positions captured by them April 2. Paris admits also that the Germans have recovered some ground temporarily lost by them between Pont-a-Mousson and St. Mihiel, but even there the French claim to hold most of their gain. The fighting in the Carpathians continues along a seventy-mile front (Continued on Page 6)

ARMY TRANSPORT TO RELIEVE AMERICANS IN TAMPICO, MEXICO

Washington, D. C., April 12--Secretary Bryan today asked the war department to furnish an army transport to bring those Americans at Tampico who are desirous of return to the United States. Three hundred Americans have fled requests for transportation, but officials believe the number will be increased when the army transport which has a capacity of 1,000 arrives at the Mexican port. Threatened famine, continued fighting in the outskirts of Tampico and the lack of work have caused an exodus of foreigners from Tampico. Will Give Protection To Foreigners In Capital Assurances have been received from General Carranza that while he cannot agree to the neutralization of the city of Mexico City or the railroad leading from the capital to Vera Cruz, he will provide every facility of the transportation of foreigners whenever forces regain possession of Mexico City. The Villa agency received today this report from Gen. Carranza commanding the forces operating against Victoriano, capital of Tamaulipas. "Early Saturday morning a battle took place at Garza Valdez, resulting in our capturing three military trains, five machine guns, a large quantity of arms and ammunition and 150 prisoners. The enemy lost about 125 killed, others scattering and escaping to the mountains in this vicinity. Our losses were 22 killed and 32 wounded. The wounded have been sent to Juarez."

ROBERTS DESCRIBED AS ARCH CONSPIRATOR; JUDGE GETS 5 YEARS

Indianapolis, April 12--Mayor Donn M. Roberts, of Terre Haute, who was described today by Judge Anderson as the "arch conspirator," was sentenced to serve six years in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and pay a fine of $2,000 in federal court here today.

Twenty others of the 116 persons who have been convicted or pleaded guilty to the federal indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the United States by corrupting the election of November 3, 1914, also received sentences to Leavenworth prison. Four were given suspended sentences. Number Are Given Light Sentences Or Fines Judgment was reserved in the case of four at the request of United States District Attorney Dailey and the remainder were given either sentences in the local jail or fines. It was said to be the largest number sentenced at one time in the local court. Before sentence was passed Judge Anderson overruled a motion for new trial filed on behalf of the 27 men found guilty by a jury last Tuesday and to arrest judgment. Exceptions are taken to the court's decisions. Notes of appeals were filed for the twenty convicted men who were sentenced to the pen. (Continued On Page 6)

NEW ORLEANS IS MADE RAT PROOF

Washington, April 12--"More than half of the approximately 70,000 buildings in New Orleans have been made rat proof; there has not been a case of plague there since October 4, last, and it will not be long before New Orleans will be one of the most rat proof cities in the world," announced Dr. W. C. Rueker, assistant surgeon general of the public health service today. Dr. Rueker had charge of the eradication of the plague. Reports today show that 318,000 rats have been caught by the health authorities in New Orleans since the anti-plague campaign began last autumn and all of them have been subjected to bacteriological examination. "All the rats caught have been identified as to species and sex," said Dr. Rueker. The species plays an important part."

ARRANGE TO PROTEST GOVERNOR'S ACTION

Columbus, April 12--The political turmoil caused by Governor Willis' action last Friday in asking for the resignation of 14 members of state commissions, was increased today by transmission of another letter from Charles H. Bryson, civil service commissioner to the governor. Commissioner Bryson announced his intention of not resigning and asserted in plain terms that the governor has no authority to interfere with civil service administration. Governor Willis said he would make no reply to Commissioner Bryson. The Civil Service commission had announced it would consider formally today the governor's alleged action in interfering with administration of civil service by recommending the appointment of certain men to positions of the state at a special meeting today. No meeting was held, however. Member of Agricultural Commission Resigns No additional resignations were received at the governor's office today, and apparently none were being prepared. The governor held only the offer of C. O. Williams, of Wooster, member of the agricultural commission to quit in accordance with the governor's suggestion. Former Attorney General T. S. Hagan who has been retained as counsel for the commissioners, who expect to fight Governor Willis' attempt to remove them, made this comment: "The next move will come from the other side and it may surprise people about the governor's office. Most of the 14 officials whose resignations were asked by Governor Willis were preparing letters of acknowledgment today. These will be mailed tonight and should reach the governor's office tomorrow morning. None would admit today they expected to resign."

BILLY BUTT-IN The Times Weather Man

APRIL SHOWERS DON'T WORRY ME

If you got caught in one of them showers today don't blame me. I'm some weather man--I admit it--but I don't claim I have any special influence with April showers. If I had I wouldn't go around carryin' a rain-stick. I hate like sixty to acknowledge defeat and take a shelter, but a rain-stick is the only remedy I've ever found for April showers. Here's my guess for tomorrow. Ohio--Partly cloudy and somewhat colder tonight. Probably frost. Tuesday fair with rising temperature. Kentucky--Fair tonight, and Tuesday; somewhat colder tonight, probably light frost in exposed places. West Virginia--Fair tonight and Tuesday; colder tonight.

ITALIAN ARMS NECESSARY TO DOWN DEMONSTRATIONS

Rome, April 11 (via Paris, April 12)--Notwithstanding orders issued by the police attempts were made today by persons both for and against intervention by Italy in the war to hold public meetings in all parts of the country. The crowds which gathered were charged and dispersed in nearly every instance by carabinieri and troops but few persons were wounded, although some arrests were made, among those taken into custody being Professor Benito Mussolini, the socialist leader, who favors a continuance of neutrality, and Signor Marinetti, the futurist leader, who is urging intervention. The central sections of Rome were occupied until late tonight by troops who guarded the approaches to the Villamont, the residence of the German commander, Prince von Buelow, and the Quirinal. The building most strongly defended, however, was the Austrian embassy, where troops and mounted carabinieri charged the demonstrators who evidenced by their shouts the animosity they felt for Austria and their desire for Italy to begin hostilities. It has been urged, however, that while this weapon is almost the equivalent of a machine gun, it will be impossible to supply the individual soldier in the trenches with ammunition to meet its rapid rate of consumption.

CHARGED WITH MISUSING MAILS

Chicago, April 12--Indictments against John Parson, Jr., and his brother, Wm. Parson, and six other men charged with misuse of the mails in the sale of securities amounting to $5,000,000 in a Colorado irrigation deal were announced today by the U. S. district attorneys of this state.

Hall, have started a campaign through which they hope to land an appointment for Thomas J. Mulligan, of this city, in one of the state places which Governor Willis proposes to vacate. Mulligan was a candidate for state inspector of oils.

PAIN DRIVES E. F. GRAY TO COMMIT SUICIDE

OBITUARY

Monday's Cincinnati Enquirer had the following account of the suicide of Eugene Frances Gray, 61, a former resident of Portsmouth, who has lived in Cincinnati for the past several years. Mr. Gray was located in this city as a general passenger agent of the C. P. & V. railroad until it was taken over by the N. & W. and made many friends here, who will be pained to learn of his untimely end.

"A tragic summary of years of struggle to endure the pain of an incurable disease is written in a note penned by Eugene Frances Gray, 61, who ended his life early yesterday morning in his home, 4602 Winona Terrace, Madisonville.

"The note reads: 'To whom it may concern: I am about to end my life. I cannot longer stand the suffering that I have endured for years. I have no other hope for relief.' The missive was signed 'E. F. Gray.'

"Gray arose about daylight yesterday morning. Members of the family heard him go down stairs, but they had no thought that he intended harm to himself. A few minutes later a shot was heard. Mrs. Gray hurried down stairs to find her husband lying on the dining-room floor with a bullet hole through his head. The bullet entered the brain just behind the temple, and passed through the head.

"Gray retired from active life several years ago when his health broke. At that time he was Cincinnati agent for the McDermott Stone Company. At one time he was general passenger agent of the C. P. & V. railroad. He severed his connection with the road when it was taken over by the Norfolk and Western.

"He also served for years as treasurer of the Builders' and Traders' Exchange, and was well known among contractors and builders of the city.

"E. G. Gray, Jr., a son of the deceased, formerly employed in the offices of the Pennsylvania lines in Cincinnati, is now in Texas. He was notified last night of his father's death, and started for Cincinnati. Arrangements for the funeral will be completed today.

It's a Good Thing

A young man brought one of our "Ideal Pocket Saving Banks" with his three days' savings of quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies to our office. We opened it and he had almost $7.00 which he deposited on his savings book.

He said, "It is a good thing. If I had not had the bank, I would have spent the money. As it was I saved the small change into the bank and I saved it."

If the small bank is a good thing for him, it will be good for you. You can start today by leaving a dime with us and taking the bank with you. When you return the bank to be opened and your savings are credited on a pass book, we return the dime to you.

The bank is little but it helps.

James L. Treuthart

Mr. James L. Treuthart, one of Portsmouth's well known older citizens, passed peacefully away at an early hour Monday morning at the family home on Seventh street. His death was due to natural causes and the infirmities of age.

He was born in 1833 at Zweilsmann, Canton Berne, Switzerland. His parents came to the United States in 1851, and settled in Northern Ohio at Upper Sandusky, near which point Mr. Treuthart was educated, having graduated from an academy and later admitted to the bar.

He enlisted at Upper Sandusky in Company A, 104th O. V. I., August 7, 1863, and served until June 17, 1865. He was appointed corporal August 22, 1862; Sergeant, August 5, 1863, and First Sergeant, August 19, 1864.

Shortly after the close of the war, he purchased a book store in Portsmouth, O., and engaged in that business forty years. He was appointed School Examiner of city school teachers at Portsmouth in 1875, and served in that capacity twelve years. He was familiar with the French, German, Greek and English languages.

He was married November 27, 1873, to Cornelia E. Bruner, teacher of the Portsmouth Public Schools, who survives him. Their two sons, Willie and Elmer, died in infancy. Their six daughters are as follows: Miss Alice C., employed at the N. & W. Terminal; Mrs. Bertha T. Johnson, of Abingdon, Va.; Mrs. Maude T. Snow, of Delaware, W. Va.; Mrs. Flora T. McClure, Mrs. Blanche T. Mickelthwait, and Miss Edith T. Treuthart, of this city, and also by a sister, Mrs. Louise Kleining, of Naperville, Ill., and a brother, Rev. G. C. Knobel, of Chicago.

He was author of "The Milliard" (1000 verses), a poem of Justice and Liberty, an epic of the Ages as also of the United States. "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Mr. Treuthart has made an honorable record throughout his business career, adding to his trade the graces of a scholar and gentleman, and retiring with a clear conscience, which is better than coffers overflowing.

The funeral services will be held at the family residence on Seventh street Wednesday afternoon, the hour to be announced later. The burial at Greenlawn will be private. The services at the home will be in charge of the Rev. John W. Dillon.

Mrs. Flora McNeal Ratcliff

After suffering intensely for several days following a surgical operation, Mrs. Flora McNeal Ratcliff, wife of James Ratcliff, of Cosington, answered the final summons Tuesday morning. The deceased was born at Lynn, Ky., Aug. 22, 1850, and departed this life April 6, 1915, aged 64 years, 7 months and 4 days. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McNeal, of Edgington, Ky., both of whom survive.

She is also survived by her husband, one sister, Edythe McNeal, and two brothers, Charles and Clyde, besides a host of friends who will mourn her loss. At an early age she united with the Christian church at Siloam, Ky., where she remained a faithful member until death. On December 23, 1910, she was united in marriage to Mr.

James Ratcliff, of Frost, Ky. She was a faithful wife, a dutiful daughter and was loved and respected by all who knew her. She had been in declining health for several months and it was necessary for her to undergo an operation, which resulted in her death. Everything that loving hands could do was done for her, but to no avail. Her funeral services were conducted at the Christian church at Siloam, Ky., Friday morning by Rev. Smith, of Ashland, Ky. It will be recalled that only a few weeks ago a brother, Monson McNeal, was killed by an N. & W. train at Sciotoville. A particularly sad feature is that a brother and sister, who are paying a visit to some relatives in the West, could not be located in time to reach here before the interment.

Only a small portion of those present were able to get inside the house. Friends of the late physician were present from both Scioto and Pike counties in large numbers.

"STAR—The Pocket-Piece of Geniality"

Men Who Chew Are Men Who DO

THE men of the navy who "draw a defensive line of steel" along our coasts have ever, in peace and war, found enjoyment in tobacco.

And the best "navy" plug, STAR Chewing Tobacco, appeals alike to the "tar" and the officer.

And STAR is a capital G-O-O-D tobacco, fat with extra long, chewing leaf of the mellowest variety, with a taste that lasts. In each thick STAR plug there are 16 full, chewable ounces.

A pure food commission and a board of weights and measures couldn't improve on STAR'S unvarying standard of honest weight, quality and absolute cleanliness of preparation.

Here's what American men think of STAR:

The pound STAR plugs chewed in one year, if placed end to end, would stretch from Portland, Maine, clear over to Seattle, Washington, down to San Francisco, across to Key West and end at Atlantic City, N. J.

has no rival; as the man himself stands alone among the famous immortals of history, so does this film record of his life stand alone among famous pictures.

More than twenty thousand people were employed in many of the big scenes in Julius Caesar. If you think this an over-estimate, remember this statement when you see the picture. It will recall the ninth inning break-up of a World's Championship ball game or a glimpse of Broadway on New Year's Eve.

Over $100,000.00 were spent for properties alone; the enormous expense of costuming 20,000 people, the building of scenery, statues, chariots, musical instruments, war implements from the Roman broadsword and the catapult to the Gallic shield and helmet will give some idea of the immense amount of work in the production of this great picture.

JUDGE BANNON AT HOME FROM CALIFORNIA TRIP

Declaring that the Panama Exposition at San Francisco and the San Diego Exposition are two of the finest expositions he has ever attended Judge Bannon accompanied by Mrs. Bannon arrived home Sunday from California. They were accompanied home from Cincinnati by L. D. York, who came over the Santa Fe line, Mrs. York remaining in St. Louis for a visit with relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. George D. Selby, who were in California with Mr. and Mrs. Bannon and Mr. and Mrs. York will not arrive home until the first week in May. They will stop at Idaho to visit a sister of Mr. Selby whom they have not seen for some time.

"We were in Los Angeles for a month and not a drop of rain fell during this time and the average temperature was 80," said Judge Bannon Monday. "We visited the two expositions and made the trip from Los Angeles to San Diego in Mr. Selby's car, the distance being 135 miles along the coast route and 195 miles returning over what is known as the inland route, which bring you through the mountains and the most famous orange groves in California. The scenery was magnificent and we enjoyed every moment of our visit to San Diego, Los Angeles and Frisco. The attendance at both expositions has so far exceeded the most sanguine expectations. The San Diego affair, of course, is not nearly so large as the Panama Exposition, but the buildings are beautiful and the exhibits are simply wonderful. The Panama Exposition is beyond description," said Mr. Bannon.

While in Los Angeles Judge and Mrs. Bannon, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Selby and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. York were entertained by Mrs. Laura Watkins, Mrs. Albert McFarland, Mrs. Ella McFarland Bousalt and had the pleasure of attending the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, former well known residents of Portsmouth. The entertainment was held in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Chry. They also met Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hurd of Wichita, Kansas, former residents of this city, who were visiting in Los Angeles.

On their way home Judge and Mrs. Bannon spent a few days in Salt Lake City and Denver.

MOTORIZATION IS OPPOSED

The city board of control Monday went on record as opposed to the complete motorization of the fire department at this time.

The board contended that the interest on $35,000 in the present condition of the money market would almost equal the assessments on the horse drawn equipment and besides motor apparatus is still in an experimental stage. The board recommended the purchase of a new horse for the chief and 1000 ft. more of fire hose.

The board decided to insist upon the street railway making immediate repairs to its roadbed on Second, Chillicothe, Gallia and Ninth streets.

The proposition to extend water main service to the new Idlewild addition was turned down.

CHICKENS STOLEN

Sheriff Smith and his deputies were called out early Sunday morning to investigate the robbery of the hen-roost of Charles Moritz, a rural mail carrier, living on Colo's boulevard. Three valuable hens were stolen. Roy Lynn's blood hounds were used in an effort to trace the thieves, but they lost the scent after trailing it for a short distance. The authorities have no clue to the robbers.

"CUSSING MATCH" ENDS IN COURT; POLICE NEWS

The tables were turned on Thad Chapin, an N. & W. car repairer in police court Monday when he was held equally guilty with his sister-in-law Mrs. Nancy Henderson of disorderly conduct. Chapin and the woman were fined $10 each for holding a cussing match and creating a scene in Fairytown. Chapin had caused the arrest of his relative but it developed from the evidence that Chapin had provoked the outbreak by sending an obscene message to Mrs. Henderson through her little niece, Blanch Brauner, of Olive Hill, Ky., who is here on a visit. Chapin and his wife and the latter's sister Mrs. Henderson have not been on speaking terms for a year.

Stole From The Star

Will Ryan, colored, a former policeman, was fined $10 and costs for alleged taking a quantity of scrap lead from the Morning Star office and selling it at Jacobs' junk shop. The metal was recovered. Editor F. W. Myers, who appeared against Ryan, assured the court that he was not so much concerned about severely punishing Ryan as he was to urge that steps be taken toward rendering it more difficult for people to dispose of stolen property to junk dealers, saying that Ryan had told him no questions were asked him when he offered the metal for sale. The court informed Mr. Myers that the laws compelled junk dealers to make daily reports to the police of all their purchases.

Catsy Sly Arrested

Al "Catsy" Sly who has just returned from the Cincinnati workhouse only to be arrested for drunkenness Saturday night was fined $5 and ordered to work on the streets. Robert Paterson, a negro, was fined $25 and costs for wife-beating and committed to two weeks' work on the streets.

Allegations Are Denied

Alva Crabtree, defendant in a divorce action filed recently by his wife, Mary Crabtree, filed his answer and cross-petition in common pleas court Monday, through his attorneys, Milner, Miller and Searl. He denies the allegations of his wife, and accuses her of gross neglect, adultery, and desertion, upon which grounds he asks for a divorce. Crabtree claims that his wife left him in July, 1912, on the pretense of visiting relatives in West Virginia, and never returned.

To Assume New Charge

Rev. Samuel Crabtree, formerly of Georgetown, O., who has been visiting local relatives, left Monday to visit relatives in the vicinity of Stockdale. He will leave Thursday for Mackinaw, Ill., to assume his new charge as pastor of the Christian church of that place, and will be accompanied by his wife and children who have been visiting here for the past week.

BUILDING BOOM SURE TO COME

Contemplated building operations in the section of which Portsmouth is the center for a radius of 50 to 100 miles are the largest in years, according to a statement of a representative of a prominent local building concern Monday morning to a Times Man.

In his hand he held three dozen or more slips of paper, each of which represented a large building job which will be under way within the next few weeks. Not one of the projects was problematical, but assured, and the contracts for the labor and material are soon to be awarded, he added. In each instance, the financial standing of the parties behind the enterprise insured its successful completion.

The speaker considers the activity in building operations as a sure sign of returning prosperity, since the actual work will start a boom in other avenues of business.

Who Will Help Build Hospital?

The Anti-Tuberculosis Society held a called meeting this morning to confer with County Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait as to the legality of starting a hospital in Scioto county.

Micklethwait assured the society that the county could start a hospital for that purpose and accept aid from an Anti-Tuberculosis Society or from popular subscription. It cost $323.10 last year to care for tubercular affected persons and the expense is growing heavier each year.

IN THE NEWSPAPER WORLD.

Some way the Morning Star just can't get over the fact that it started out to raise $150 once upon a time to hire a doctor and had to quit after days of vain appeals had netted it only $13. We think it unfair however in the Star to call The Times a tightwad because this great organ of the uplift did not hop in and raise the money for it, after it had failed. Of course if we had known that the Star felt that way about it, we would have offered our services and have gotten the difference between $150 and $13, turned it over and allowed the Star to go on its way rejoicing, as we always like to be courteous and neighborly with our friends.

As for being a tightwad, we have been called a good many hard names in our newspaper career, both personally and otherwise, but we have never been accused of being a t. w. before. But then you can never tell what your dearest enemies and lovingest friends will say about you behind your back and so we have quit bothering about it. We just go ahead running our paper as it seems best and most fitting to us and let it go at that. And if the Star or anybody else thinks we are a t. w. or any other old thing, that is their privilege.

But, by the way, we again call attention to the fact that the alleged policy or policies of this same Star consists in sitting around and taking notice of what The Times does and then flying into opposition no matter if it thereby lends encouragement to movements to injure itself, our home merchants, our home manufacturers, our home people of every description. Thus the Star on Friday reaped the Belgian relief proposal. On Saturday, after it discovered the attitude of The Times, it promptly reversed itself.

JUDGE CLARK--A GREAT JURIST.

It is most gratifying news to the friends over the state of the Hon. John H. Clarke, of Cleveland, to learn that he is making such an admirable record as judge of the United States District court, for the Northern district of Ohio. Mr. Clarke was an attorney of great distinction and he has the ability and tact necessary to make an equally great jurist. More than that there is that human interest about his dealings with those in his court that makes it a pleasure to do business under his direction, something that is unfortunately rare in United States courts. Now Judge Clarke's attitude is appreciated by the people of his district is shown by an item that appeared in the Cleveland Plain Dealer of April 3rd. It said:

"It sometimes takes more than a minor touch to visibly set to tinging the heart chords of a United States judge in the atmosphere of his own bench.

"But Federal Judge John H. Clarke yesterday was manifestly affected when the jurymen who have been serving in his court several weeks presented him a flowering plant, with a message signed by the entire panel. The presentation came as the term of service of the jurors expired. The message read:

"We, the undersigned jurors wish to express to your honor our deep sense of the kindly consideration and courtesy shown to us by you. We appreciate highly your honor's care in telling us what the law is, what issues are involved, and we wish to declare that we value highly the manifest earnestness of your honor to hold the balance evenly between litigating parties.

"Judge Clarke thanked the jury for their message, saying he regarded the jury as such an important arm of the court that he aims constantly to show jurors as much courtesy and consideration as is given an associate judge."

Wouldn't it be the graceful and gracious part of diplomacy for Secretary Bryan to send his conferees and contemporaries, The Czar of the Russians and the King of Great Britain and the Emperor of India, a keg of grape juice each? It wouldn't be a bad idea either to hold a keg in reserve for Der Kaiser against the day the German empire votes on prohibition.

In re, as the able attorney for the corporations would say, in re the matter of the Kendall avenue or some other viaduct, we now shall see what we shall see.

A tip to Warren Harding: Many an embryo statesman has been scorched and withered by the hot air that blew too freely from his own mouth.

We don't blame Willis for firing the Democratic tax commissioners, but we do feel the pretext he gave for his action was about the most contemptibly small one that could have been invented.

APRIL

OUR MONEY ON THE GENERAL.

The lower branch of the general assembly is ever so much grieved and peeved at the attorney general. It whispers to an unsympathetic public that Mr. Turner is trying to run the office of attorney general and boss the legislature, but he has plenty to do in attending to his own business. Indeed, he has and it is the fool legislature that is making most of the plenty for him. The lower branch just forgets. It is the old sort of a legislature that used to afflict the state in the palmy days of Hanna, George B. Cox, Guilbert and McKinnon, but Turner isn't the same sort of a complaisant attorney general. He is Republican, all right, but just now he is an official first, attorney for the public and he is most commendably diligent and intelligent in looking after the interests of his client. It is the constitutional privilege of the assembly, which it seems desirous of working to the limit, of making an ass of itself. Mouthling at so brisk and brave a fellow official isn't justifying its own delinquency, or hiding the fact at all that Turner means to maintain the position of the attorney generalship at the standard fixed by Tim Hogan who was the best attorney general Ohio ever had.

It never rains but it pours—we are needing rain.

Of course, the Wilson administration is to blame for dull times, but it is not entitled to any credit for $1.50 wheat.

Fifteen days have gone by since Lloyds bet the war would end in sixty days, but the climax is not appreciably nearer.

U. C. T. Pay Honor To Their Deceased

Annual memorial services in honor of their departed brothers were held by the United Commercial Travelers Sunday morning at the German Evangelical church, about seventy-five of the members attending. The members assembled at the Uhl's Hardware Company's store on Sixth street and marched in a body to the church, where a section of seats had been reserved for them. Each member wore a sprig of cedar in token of sorrow.

Fifty-one members of the local Council have passed into the Great Beyond since it was founded, and as the name of each was read by the acting secretary, William Ferguson, two little girls, dressed in white, deposited a rose in a large urn in front of the pulpit.

Rev. S. Lindemeyer, the pastor, delivered the memorial sermon, taking for his subject, "The Dedicated Life," in which he maintained that the truly successful salesman was not only the one who devoted himself to the firm he represented, but who dedicated his life to the cause of Christianity.

Special music for the occasion included a duet by Miss Elizabeth Plau and John Wilhelm, a vocal solo by Miss Trina Lindenmeyer, and a violin solo by Mrs. Albert Wilhelm.

Business Change

Will Reif, who was in the hardware business on Main street, Wheelersburg, for ten years, sold his store Saturday to George Kook, who will continue the business in the same location. Reif owns the building and will retire.

ANIMAL SCHOOL
Have you ever visited Animal Town? If not, you will all like to hear Of the Animal children, their work and their play. I know you will think they are queer.

The first thing you see when you get to the town Is the Animal School, painted drab; It sits on a hill, in a big grove of trees, And is taught by a learned old Crab.

At eight every morning the Animals go To school, and they study hard, too, And on Fridays they sing, and each one speaks a piece, Exactly as you children do.

On the front row of seats are the Bees and the Ants, The Birds too, because they are small, And in the last row you will find the Giraffe, Because he is so very tall.

The first thing each morning they have the roll-call, Then they all fall to work with a zest, But here is a funny thing—each Animal Just studies the things he likes best.

Treeography and all its branches are taught, The Squirrels and the Birds like that best, For it teaches them which kind of trees have the nuts And which are the nicest for nests.

And ever so many more interesting things Are taught, but I don't know their names, And then when recess comes the Animals play All manner of interesting games.

But the thing that they really love best is to tease Poor Schoolmaster Crab, I'm afraid. Tomorrow I'll tell you of some of the pranks These mischievous youngsters have played.

Teachers' Congress at the church tonight. Let every member be present without fail. All officers and scholars kindly invited.

The Sunday evening services were under the auspices of the Woman's Union and a splendid crowd was in attendance. Miss Henning of the Y. W. C. A. was the principal speaker. Her 20 minutes address was teeming full of beautiful thoughts. She possesses a clear voice and brought out many new and helpful thoughts. Miss Henning is well versed in the scriptures, which she quoted readily. The music was splendid and in keeping with the spirit of the occasion.

Rev. Charles R. Oakley, of Mansfield, will arrive here next Lord's Day to assume charge of the local church. Preparations are now under way to give him a most cordial welcome. Letters were distributed to practically every member of the church yesterday afternoon, pleading for their attendance to all services next Sunday, and especially to the Lord's supper, when Rev. Oakley will deliver a message to the membership. The new minister comes highly recommended and no doubt he will prove to be one of the most popular and best.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED SORE, ACHING FEET

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet, no more burning feet, swollen, hot, aching, sore feet. No more pain in corns, blisters or bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "TIZ". "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous excretions which puff up the feet; "TIZ" is magical; "TIZ" will cure your foot troubles so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore, swollen or tired. Get a 25 cent box at any drug or department store, and get relief.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

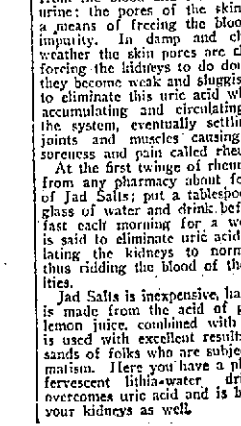

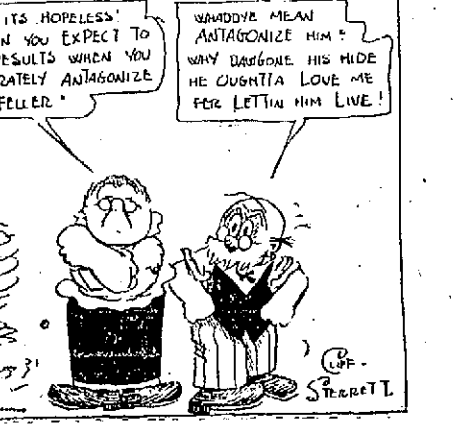

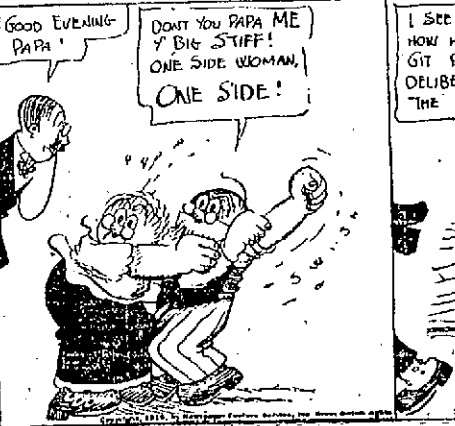

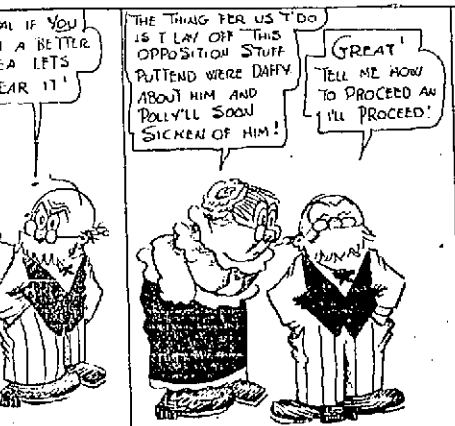

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. It not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather, the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water, drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

OWN A DIAMOND

You would like to have a diamond worth $100 or more, but you feel you are not able right now to invest that amount. You can save up to buy the large stone and while you are saving have the pleasure of wearing a diamond that is your own, fully paid for. For as little as $10 you can buy at Carr's a fine quality, perfectly cut diamond. When you are ready to secure a larger stone, we will allow you the full amount paid for the small diamond on the price of the larger jewel. NEW YORK STOCK

New York, April 12.—A reactionary trend prevailed during the greater part of today's session. Lowest prices registered in the final hour, the list yielding on another sensational rise in Bethlehem Steel.

The business of the first hour was well in excess of 300,000 shares which constituted a record for that period except last Saturday when over half a million shares changed hands.

Early losses were largely recorded despite persistent selling, but toward midday the list fell back again reading and a few other leaders going under initial declines.

Selling was mainly of local and European origin but commission houses reported further out of town buying on a more moderate scale. Steel was under restraint because of its unsatisfactory March tonnage statement, but Bethlehem Steel scored a maximum rise of five points. Bonds were firm.

Resumption of stock dealings today was in marked contrast to last week's frenzied movement. Instead of further advances, the list evinced a reactionary trend, with numerous losses of a point or more.

Trading was again extensive, however, U. S. Steel, Reading, Southern Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio being offered in lots of 1,000 shares or over. Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, and Reading were among the heaviest issues. In keeping with its recent action, Bethlehem Steel pursued a contrary course, losing a point at the outset, and soon advancing.

Secondary prices showed general improvement.

Attention was again directed to Bethlehem Steel in the final hour, that stock moving excitedly upward to 125, a new record and a gain of 17 points from last week's final price. The closing was heavy.

Secondary prices showed general improvement.

Attention was again directed to Bethlehem Steel in the final hour, that stock moving excitedly upward to 125, a new record and a gain of 17 points from last week's final price. The closing was heavy.

Trading was again extensive, however, U. S. Steel, Reading, Southern Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio being offered in lots of 1,000 shares or over. Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, and Reading were among the heaviest issues. In keeping with its recent action, Bethlehem Steel pursued a contrary course, losing a point at the outset, and soon advancing.

SAYS RECENT ELECTION AT SCIOTOVILLE ILLEGAL

According to an opinion given out Monday morning by Prosecuting Attorney Mickelthwait, the recent election at Sciotoville, at which the majority of the electors voted to incorporate the village, was an illegal proceeding.

Mr. Mickelthwait's opinion was arrived at after a thorough investigation, and sets aside his opinion given off-hand last Saturday, in which he stated that he thought the election was legal and would stand.

Section 3517, Mr. Mickelthwait says, provides that when the residents of a territory in which the property has been platted into building lots desire to incorporate, they shall go before the board of county commissioners and petition for articles of incorporation. The commissioners will thereupon fix a time for the hearing, at which opponents to the proposition have a right to be heard. No election is necessary, the action of the county board being final.

On the other hand, Section 3527 provides that in the case of a territory that has not been platted, the matter of incorporation shall be decided by the voters of that territory at a public election. This was the section under which the supporters of the incorporation proposition, called the election, and was the section cited by Prosecuting Attorney Mickelthwait Saturday when he gave his off-hand opinion.

Mr. Mickelthwait stated Monday that he had not yet been asked officially about the matter. He added, however, that the election was illegal, and would have no standing in court. The Times asked about the matter following the statement in it by a Sciotoville resident that the election was illegal and would probably be contested.

A transcript of the entire proceedings of the recent election at Sciotoville on the incorporation proposition was filed with Recorder Joseph Switkowski by the trustees of Porter township Monday.

That official will consult with Prosecuting Attorney Mickelthwait before entering the proceedings on the records, as Mr. Mickelthwait has announced unofficially that the election was illegal. The proceedings include the original petition, a plat of the village, and the outcome of the election. The trustees are C. L. Marting and George A. Bell, and the clerk, Cary Walden.

PORTSMOUTH

British Steamer Is Sunk By Torpedo

London, April 12.—The Harrison Line steamer Wayfarer has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine, according to a message received in London by a news agency.

Another message from Liverpool says the Wayfarer has not gone down but that she is making for Queenstown in tow. The vessel was torpedoed off the Sicily Islands according to the report. The owners of the Wayfarer say they have no information on the subject.

The British steamer Wayfarer was 505 feet long and registered 6,222 tons. She was built in Belfast in 1903 and was owned in Liverpool. She left Galveston January 27, for Liverpool, where she arrived February 17.

HOW ARE MEN TO BE JUDGED?

At the quarters of the E. M. B. C. of the Fourth Street M. E. the following questions were discussed: How are men to be judged? Samuel, who was sent by God to appoint a new king for Israel came to the house of Jesse, there to select one of the sons for the future ruler, and, according to his opinion, he thought that in Eliah the oldest son he had the very man he was looking for. But not so, God who told Samuel that man looked upon the outer appearance but not so with him, that he sees the heart. Here is where Rev.

Marling brought home these facts. That man can't conceal anything from the all seeing eye of God, even though he may make a good impression on his fellow man, or even deceive himself. So this ought to teach us to get right in our relation with God, then we will be right also in our dealings to others. This will show that our hearts are right. The attendance should have been better, although there were 24 present. We should do better next Sunday and bring someone else. Everybody welcome at Every Man's Bible Class.

Mrs. H. G. Cranston, 1825 Highland avenue.

Concerning the wedding of a former well-known and popular Portsmouth resident, The Enquirer today said:

"On Saturday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Powell Crosley, on College Hill, the marriage was handsomely celebrated of Miss Emma Woolley Fitz and Mr. George Alexander Caskey, of Columbus, Ohio. The house was charmingly decorated with Southern smiles, Easter lilies and spring flowers, the bride being given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Edgar M. Waller, then mild of home was her niece, Miss Edythe Caskey, who wore a dainty gown of pale green tulle and mull.

"The groom's best man was Mr. Henry Heywood, of Columbus, and Rev. A. B. Hersford, of the First Universalist church, officiated. The bride's gown was of delicate crepe meteor, decorated with the points lace that had enriched the wedding gown of her sister, the veil and cap of points lace having also been worn by Mrs. Crosley at her own marriage.

"The bride is the daughter of the late Lewis Henry Fitz and Mrs. Fitz and for several years she has devoted her life with marked self-sacrifice to the many questions that confront the juvenile court, having been one of its probation officers for some time."

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John P. Caskey, of Portsmouth, parents of the groom.

Mrs. Harry Bevan will leave Tuesday for Atlanta, where Mr. Bevan has been for a few days on business for the Excelsior Shoe Company.

Miss Mary Little has returned from a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mackey, in Wheelersburg.

Miss Sue Davis, who spent last week with her grandparents in Garrison, Ky., will be the guest of friends in Vanceburg this week.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wilson, of Highland avenue, was prettily adorned with ferns and flowers Saturday in readiness for an enjoyable party given in the evening by their son, George Wilson, complimentary to his two cousins, John Walker Burns and James Robert Burns, of Catlettsburg, who spent the weekend at the Wilson home. The evening's diversions consisted of games and music, at the end of which Mrs. Wilson served tea, cakes and mints. The guest list included Ruth Baker, Helen Scott, Ruth Cranston, Persis Flowers, Esther Corbell, Elizabeth Guler, Martha Wilson, Ruth Fairbank, Laura Donaldson, Henrietta Brown, Martha Bernhardt, Willard Monroe, Harold Baker, Fred Kober, Charles Bages, Russell Robbins, Varner Altman, John Eckhart, Albert York, Ward Miller, Benn Crumrine, Harold White.

KRON PRINZ WILHELM

(Continued From Page One) their daring tales of sea raids and destruction that rivaled her predecessor, the Prinz Eitel. During her long voyage through the Southern seas, since she slipped out of the New York harbor August 3, last, the Kronprinz Wilhelm sank 14 ships, which, with their cargoes, are valued at $7,000,000. Nine of the vessels were British, four French and one Norwegian. Nearly a thousand prisoners were taken.

This was accomplished with only four guns, two taken from the German cruiser Karlsruhe and two captured from a British merchant vessel. The commerce raider evaded hostile warships many times.

The Kronprinz Wilhelm was forced to come into port because of an outbreak of the dread-dead Beri and for supplies and repairs. Sixty-six of the crew and prisoners, ill of the disease, were taken to a hospital today. They include 61 members of the British steamers Tamar and Coleby, sunk recently.

(Editor's Note—Beri Beri, is an acute disease generally occurring in India and is characterized by multiple inflammatory changes in the nerves, producing great muscular debility, a painful rigidity of the limbs, and cachexy. The word is derived from the Singhalese "Bepi" meaning weakness. The disease is caused by a lack of vegetable food.)

One hundred and fifty tons of coal, fifty tons of fresh water and three days' supply of fresh meats, fruits and vegetables were loaded on barges during the night, and along side the cruiser at sunrise.

These provisions were allotted the raider by Collector of Customs Hamilton after conference with the Washington authorities. Arrangements also were under way early today for removal from the ship of sixty-one British sailors taken by the Kronprinz Wilhelm from the steamship Tamar and Coleby, destroyed in the South Atlantic.

U. S. Have Offices Will Survey Raider

Lieut. Commander Thierfelder has asked for time to survey his ship and to submit to examination by a board of United States naval officers before making a formal request as to the time he wishes to remain in American waters, for full supplies and repairs.

His machinery, from the 265 days voyage from New York harbor is said to be in fairly good condition, evidenced by the fact that the ship was able to make at least twenty-three knots an hour Saturday night and Sunday morning in her dash into Hampton Roads through a lane that echoed and re-echoed with the splutterings from wireless instruments of enemy warships.

Enjoy First Good Night's Sleep For Eight Months

All was ship shape on board the Wilhelm at sunrise today, officers and sailors in their queue-looking gray uniforms of French army cloth captured from the steamer Guadeloupe presenting a fresh appearance after the first undisturbed night's rest in eight months of persistent and elusive operations on the high seas.

"It was a long voyage from New York to Newport News," said Over-Lieutenant Warneke, first officer of the Wilhelm, as he looked out on the brilliant sunrise and in all that time we never touched land.

Large Supply of Meat Is Captured

"We also got a large quantity of supplies from the La Corrientia, including more than 5,000,000 pounds of meat. This supply last us until about 10 days ago."

"The French bark Union, coal laden, was next overhauled. We transferred 3,100 tons to the Kronprinz, filling the bunkers to overflowing and put as much as we could in the first-class cabins. We needed it badly."

"November 21 we captured and sank the French steamer Anne de Bretagne, December 4, just as our coal was again running short, we came upon and took possession of the British steamer Bellevue, which had 4,000 tons of coal aboard."

"Our next prize was the French steamer Montagu, she was empty and after transferring her crew to our ship we sent her to the bottom."

"On December 28 we captured the British steamer Hemisphere and secured 5,000 tons of coal from her. This enabled us to proceed without any fear of running short of fuel for a long time."

"The British steamer Potaro fell victim to us January 10. This vessel was in ballast. The British steamer Highland Bird we overhauled January 14. In addition to a crew of 91, this steamer had 50 passengers aboard. We took what we wanted from her, transferred her crew and passengers to the Kronprinz and sent the vessel to the bottom. The same day we captured the British steamer Wilfred M. She was loaded with fish and potatoes, much of which we took aboard."

"Should it be found that the ship did not secure clearance papers, she would be subjected to 'Pains and Penalties' for breach of the customs law of the United States."

Several Members of Crew Wearing Iron Crosses

Several of the officers and men of the cruiser are wearing the "Iron Cross," but they refuse to discuss the feat a person formed to gain it. The sixty-one prisoners now on board the Kronprinz who were taken from the royal mail steamer Tamar, and the British steamer Coleby still were cooped up in a space upon the upper after deck and guarded by armed sailors. Efforts to talk to the prisoners was prevented by the guards but later today they will be brought ashore.

Many Members of Crew Are Naturalized Americans

The crew of the Kronprinz is composed almost entirely of persons who are naturalized Americans who have lived in the United States for many years. Some of them are former members of the crew of the United States battleship Kearsarge and of the German cruiser Karlsruhe, transferred to the Kronprinz in the South Atlantic.

Several others are members of the crews of ships sunk by the auxiliary cruiser.

British Vice Consul C. E. Kenworthy is in communication with Collector Hamilton concerning the deposition of the prisoners.

Cargo of Wheat Taken From British Vessel

"The Norwegian sailing ship Samuella, the only neutral vessel we sank on our long voyage, we overhauled February 5. This ship, we were told, had on board a cargo of wheat consigned to the British army and navy, so we sent her down because she was carrying contraband."

"We did not come across another ship until February 22, when we captured the British steamer Chase Hill. After taking coal and provisions from her we put 400 or 500 prisoners aboard her and told her captain to take them to the nearest port."

"We left her food and coal enough to make port, and before putting the prisoners aboard fitted up sleeping accommodations for them."

"While we were transferring coal to the Kronprinz the French passenger steamer Guadeloupe, with a crew of 150 men and officers and 143 passengers came up and we took her in charge. These passengers also were placed aboard the Chase Hill, and after taking what we wanted from the Frenchman we sent her down by opening her sea-cocks."

"We did not sight another ship until March 25, when the British Royal Liner Tamar, bound from Santos to Havre, with 68,000 sacks of coffee was overhauled off the Brazilian coast. We took 33 officers and men and sent the ship to the bottom."

"Two days later we captured the British steamer Coleby, from Rosario to St. Vincent, with a cargo of wheat. The crews of the last named ships we now have aboard."

"Although our boilers and bottom are in bad shape we would not have put into port here had it not been for the capture of the ship which was to bring us coal and provisions. She made a dash from Las Palmas about three weeks ago, but was captured by the British about a week later."

"As there was no relief in sight we had no alternative but to put in here for supplies. We had barely enough coal left in our bunkers to get to port, our provisions were almost exhausted and for weeks we have been drinking seawater distilled in the ship's condenser."

Warning Given Not To Try For New York

It was reported last night that the cruiser's original destination was New York, but that warnings were given of to attempt to make that port.

Although officers would not admit it, the Wilhelm is declared to have been waiting far out in the ocean off this port until the Eitel Friedrich was interned. As soon as the news reached her she was ordered to creep in through the allied ships off the Virginia coast should they remain there.

Samuel Lindenmeyer, pastor of the church, was called upon to remove from the cavity in the stone a small zinc box which was supposed to have contained papers put in it when the stone was laid in 1853.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—The Higgs National Bank, the largest financial institution in Washington, today began legal proceedings against Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller of the Currency Williams to compel them to desist from alleged efforts to ruin its business. McAdoo and Williams have persecuted the bank for more than a year past, culminating March 30, with a refusal to pay $5,000 interest on government bonds on deposit with the United States to secure the bank's circulation.

The refusal is alleged to have resulted from a failure on the part of the bank to make special reports demanded by the comptroller, the $5,000, representing a penalty of $100 a day imposed.

BLAMES SECRETARY FOR THE F-4 DISASTER

Washington, April 12.—Representative Gardner, of Massachusetts, gave a dinner here Saturday night to the reserve army of the United States. Eight of the 16 reservists attended. The proceedings were intended to express the views of the diners on the state of the national defenses.

Mr. Gardner made the principal speech and referred to the recent loss of the submarine F-4, which he characterized as "a gruesome comment on Secretary Daniels' policy of peaceful persuasion and pretense of preparedness."

"The loss of life on the F-4," said he, "is due to Secretary Daniels' neglect of our submarines."

Mr. Gardner related an incident which he said occurred a year ago when "in the minds of many people there was serious danger of international trouble in the Pacific ocean."

GERMAN AMBASSADOR CHARGES ENORMOUS INDUSTRY IN WAR MATERIALS CONDUCTED IN U. S.

Washington, April 12.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, made public last night the text of the note he recently presented to the state department declaring that "if the American people desired to observe thorough neutrality, they will find means to stop the exclusive exportation of arms to one side, or at least to use this export trade as an means to uphold the legitimate trade with Germany, especially the trade in foodstuffs."

The memorandum was prepared at the German embassy, and while it does not call for a reply the state department already has drafted one which will be delivered probably within the next few days.

The ambassador, in his complaint, informs the United States that contrary to the real spirit of neutrality an enormous new industry of war material of every kind is being built up in this country and that this is "supplying only Germany's enemies, a fact which is no way modified by the purely theoretical willingness to furnish Germany as well, if it were possible."

The text follows: "The different British orders in council have altered the universally recognized rules of international law in such a one-sided manner that they arbitrarily suppress the trade of neutral countries with Germany. Already, prior to the last order in council, the shipment of contraband, especially foodstuffs to Germany was practically impossible. In fact, prior to the protests which the American government made in London on December 28, 1914, not a single shipment of such goods for Germany has been effected from the United States. Also after the lodging of the protest and as far as is known to the German embassy, only one such shipment has been attempted by an American skipper. Ship and cargo were immediately seized by the British and are still detained at a British port. As a pretext for this unwarranted action, the British government refers to a decree of the German federal council concerning the wheat trade, although this decree only covered wheat and flour and no other foodstuffs, although imported foodstuffs were especially exempt from this decree and although the German government has given all necessary guarantees to the United States government and had even proposed a special organization in order to secure these foodstuffs for the exclusive consumption of the civilian population."

The seizure of an American ship under these circumstances was in contradiction with recognized principles of international law. Nevertheless, the United States government has been unable to obtain the ship, nor in safeguarding the legitimate American trade with Germany. Such a delay, especially when the supply of foodstuffs is concerned, seems equivalent to complete failure."

Paris, April 12.—The charge that explosives and spare parts of guns are being carried into Turkey through Rumania by German and Austrian diplomatic couriers is made in a dispatch to the Journal from Bucharest. It is said that the size and increasing number of parcels carried by these couriers recently has attracted the attention of Rumanian customs officials. The embassy "pouches" which are exempt from customs examinations, the dispatch says, some times weigh as much as 5000 pounds and never less than 5000 pounds.

The number of couriers also is considerably larger than usual. A discreet inquiry is reported to have revealed the nature of the "pouches" contents. It is believed that by this method a considerable quantity of munition and material has been smuggled into Turkey in the past few weeks.

The most severe measures have been taken by the Rumanian government to put an end to the practice.

Mrs. James J. Hudlin, of 2021 Sixth street, who has been ill for the past three weeks, is improving slowly.

Word came from Athens Monday that Emil Bishop who was committed to the Athens hospital in February was no better and that his condition had become serious.

V. T. Roberts, of 2452 Gallia received word Saturday of the serious illness of his father, William Roberts, of Orlando, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left Sunday for Orlando to be at his bedside.

Mrs. A. Z. Bluff, who was recently operated upon for appendicitis has recovered sufficiently to be out again.

Complaints Made.

Squire Walden of Seletoville, telephoned to the probate judge's office Monday that it is claimed John Crawford, of that village, a former inmate of the Athens hospital, was mistreating his mother. The matter was reported to Sheriff Smith, but as no affidavit had been filed, he was without authority to act. Crawford escaped from the Athens hospital on July 11th last and during the interim between his escape and the discovery of his whereabouts, he was discharged from the institution.

A warrant was made out for Crawford late this afternoon.

EVIDENTLY RUFUS ISN'T A BIT SLOW IN CATCHING SIGNALS

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, wealth, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 60. Residence A-599.

Dear Dolly.—I should like to ask why the people of Portsmouth do not take an interest in their city and try to make it beautiful? I have traveled all over the country, visiting many towns and cities and am sorry to say, I have never seen so many dilapidated fences as we have here in Portsmouth. Why can't people take pride in their homes and lawns and see that everything is spic and span around their properties.

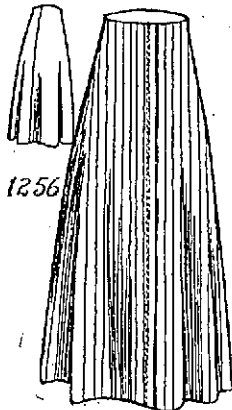

AN EX-RESIDENT.
I hope every property owner in this city will profit by your suggestion and see to it that their homes and lawns are beautified as soon as possible. There is no reason why there should be so many old fences and parts of fences in front of an otherwise attractive home. Another thing that adds to the beauty of a city and to the value of the property, is good sidewalks. Persons who have had sidewalks or no sidewalks at all should have them fixed before the weather gets too warm and the contractors rushed with work. Those who can afford it should also have their properties painted. D. W. hopes everybody will take an active part with the good women who are trying to clean up our city. Let every man, woman or child do his or her part to make the work successful. Let the landlords who rent property see that all cans, sacks, bottles, ashes and refuse of every description is placed in some convenient place so that the garbage collector can haul it away. There is no reason why Portsmouth cannot be as clean as any other city. It is up to all to help. Let us do it.

Columbus, O.—Dear Miss Wise.—Can you tell me of any place in your city where I could secure employment? I am a licensed chauffeur and repairman and would like to move to Portsmouth if I can find work. Will you please answer as soon as possible.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This dissolves it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon, apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single bit and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four times as all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

The New Century Club entertained their friends with a Children's Day program Saturday afternoon at the High School Auditorium, where a splendid program was arranged by Mrs. Frances McCollum, Mrs. Samuel Horchow, Miss Mary Little and Miss Grace Young, as follows:

PART I.
Work of Miss Elizabeth Rieker's Kindergarten Pupils.
History of Froebel—Mrs. Samuel Horchow.

Selections from Eugene Field—Mrs. Lena Kling Reel.

PART II.
Music by some of Miss Little's pupils.
Norwegian Dance Cuprice (Krelling)—Miss Helen Uhl.
Gypsy Rondo (Haydn)—Miss Helen Ferrero.

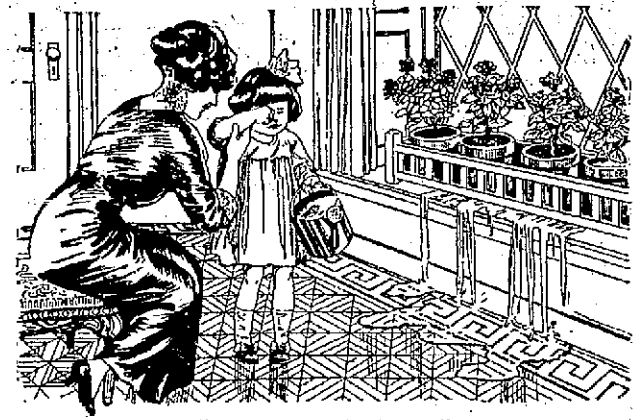

Piano—Miss Bernadine Streuber.
Piano Trio—Fantasy from "William Tell" Overture—(Rossini)—Misses Uhl and Ferrero.

PART III.
Folk dances, Singing Games and Dramatization of Stories—Pupils of Mrs. Frances McCollum's school.

The program was announced by Mrs. Horchow and was opened by Miss Elizabeth Rieker's Kindergarten pupils, which was very interesting, the little girls presenting their little games as used in school and singing their little songs in a perfectly natural way and showed the good training they have had under their capable teacher. Mrs. Horchow gave a sketch of the life of Froebel, the father of the Kindergarten work, which was first opened by Miss Frankenberg in Columbus in 1842. Mrs. Lena Kling Reel, who always pleases her audience by her attractive readings, gave several selections from Eugene Field, which ended the first part of the program.

The second part was presented by Miss Mary Little's interesting little pupils in music. Miss Little gave a sketch of the composers. The Norwegian music was beautifully presented by the young pupils, who are making great headway under the direction of their fine teacher. Each one played their parts exceptionally well and their part of the program was given high praise. A new and novel feature was the presentation of the Folk Dances, Singing Games and Dramatization of Stories given by Mrs. Frances McCollum's pupils of the Third B grade of Lincoln school. This new feature has recently been introduced in the schools by Mrs. McCollum. A violin played the music and the children took their parts wonderfully well in the quaint dances. A beautiful feature in this is the grace and bringing into play all the muscles of the body, also making it a very healthful, as well as beautiful exercise, which is a grand thing for the children. In demonstrating the stories and taking the imaginary parts it was wonderful the way they had been trained to these parts.

"I see you and you see me" was lunched and sung by the class, as were others as pretty. In "The Wizard" Ferdinand Martin was the narrator of the story he composed, and the parts were taken by Mildred Little, Chuck, The Wenzel, by Ferdinand Martin; Grandmother, Janet Eckhart; Rooster, Harold McCann;

"Don't cry, dear, it doesn't matter." And it doesn't a bit—if the floor and window sills are varnished with

VALENTINE'S VALSPAR
The Varnish That Won't Turn White

Of course you take lots of pride in the appearance of your home. You do like to keep the tables, chairs, woodwork, floors, etc., new and bright. But fussing with smelly oils or waxes is disagreeable. You don't care to do it very often. Well, you need not do it at all.

A surface finished with Valspar can be cleaned with soap and hot water. Such a washing would turn any other varnish white, dim its lustre and destroy the elasticity of the varnish and its capacity to resist wear.

A washable varnish has hundreds of uses, extending to fields where varnish formerly could not enter.

Use Valspar, therefore, for bathroom—kitchen—pantry—and front door.

Some of your neighbors have used Valspar—ask them what they think of it.

If directions are followed and Valspar doesn't prove satisfactory we will return your money. Try it today.

Printed instructions for using Valspar correctly and a set of beautiful Valspar Poster Stamps can be obtained from us free of charge.

The action of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, is noticeable in the skin. It is not a week an entire. Water, gas, oil and nearly all the active products of nature seek the surface. It seems to be a cosmic law. Even our thoughts will unconsciously get into the system and eventually come out changed. In fact, converted into some other substance, or that which has served its useful purpose and must be eliminated. And the skin is the principal avenue for escape of certain acids or poisons. If the skin and blood be healthy, those wastes pass off as vapor or perspiration. But impurities, such as eczema, rash, fever blisters, blood poisons and other eruptions. And S. S. DRAYO CONTRACTING CO. RUSHES BRIDGE WORK

Work on the C. & O. Northern bridge across the Ohio river at Sciotoville is progressing rapidly and hundreds of people are attracted to the scene every Sunday to watch the work. Three eight hour shifts are being worked to complete the only river pier before the water again creeps up and the way the contractors are going ahead is a revelation to many.

The last batch of concrete for the base of the river pier was poured Monday. Barges, concrete mixing boat, derrick boats and a barge holding a high steel distributing tower, are clustered about the cofferdam in such manner to resemble a small village. Seven small piers have been completed on this side of the river from the bank to the hill north of Gallia pike. Ohio river bank pier was completed sometime ago. Excavating has been completed for the base of the ninth small pier and the abutment on this side. A small pier south of the N. & W. tracks will be the last to be put in on this side. Derricks, concrete mixing machines and steel distributing towers have been erected on the Kentucky shore but work on piers has not started.

The inability to secure the right of way through a small tract of Kentucky bottom land is holding up work on the Kentucky side. C. & O. men here expect to have a title to the ground within a week and work will be started on piers on that side of the river. There are to be twenty-five piers and two abutments. On this side there will be one main bank pier, nine small piers and one abutment. On the Kentucky side there will be one main bank pier one abutment and thirteen small piers. Only one pier will be in the water and it is in the middle of the river.

F. R. Dravo of the Dravo Contracting company which, firm is doing the sub-structure or concrete work stopped in the city a short time Sunday and looked over the work and was very well pleased with the progress already made. He came from Pittsburgh and left on N. & W. train No. 15 for Columbus Sunday afternoon.

BIG DEBATE ENJOYED

Wheelerburg high school was packed Saturday evening with people from Wait's Station, Powellsville, Haverhill, Lick Run and Dogwood Ridge to hear the debate on "Resolved, That the United States Should Be Better Prepared for War."

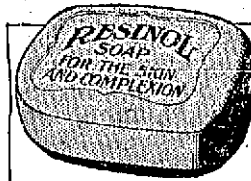

Superintendent J. M. Turner and John Sauer, student, who were judged the winners after bitter arguments advanced by each side. Sauer took the place of Teacher Charles Corbin, who was called to his home in Ironton. McKinley Sauer and Lewis Smith, students were on the affirmative side. Prof. Turner in his part of the argument stated that he took his facts from Secretary of War Daniels' report saying that the United States is, ship for ship and man for man, better than any country we might go to war with.

The judges were Rev. Hager, Henry Pieper and Prof. Paul Cronier of Wheelerburg.

Following the debate McKinley Sauer and Lewis Smith sang "Tipperary Mary." An ice cream and box social was given by the Senior class and nearly everybody invested in a box. A more successful debate was never held in the vicinity of Wheelerburg.

S. OF V. TO HAVE A BIG MEETING

The District Meeting and Camp Fire of the Sons of Veterans to be held next Friday evening, April 16, promises to be the largest gathering of Sons of Veterans held in this city in over a quarter of a century. It will be notable from the fact that perhaps more high officials of the order will be in attendance than ever attended a meeting in Southern Ohio before.

Division Secretary J. Edgar Sherry of Springfield, writes: "We will go to Columbus Thursday evening, and leave there over the N. & W. at 8:15 Friday morning, arriving about 12 a. m., in time to have a look over your brag town by daylight. All of us want to see what you have you call 'A real live city.'"

The "we" includes Division Commander Aughinbaugh, of New Philadelphia, Secretary Sherry and H. C. Brown, of Springfield, and C. A. Whittlesly, of Akron.

Mr. Sherry states they will be here till Saturday evening, when they go to West Union to muster in a new camp there, organized by Mr. J. O. McManis, cashier of the First National Bank of West Union and that they hope to take a large representation from Vienna down to do the work up right. He asks that Mr. McManis be invited to attend the meeting here—and Mr. McManis has been assured he would be very welcome. He will be here.

From Dayton is coming Hon. T. C. Long and Past Division Commander W. S. Reeder, while Hon. Wm. M. Coffin, of Cincinnati, tells the entertainment committee he will "try to come if he can get away from court duties." Past Division Commander Sherry, of Lancaster, and Past Division Commander P. W. Combs, of Marietta, are both expected, while Lieutenant Colonel Park T. Yingling, of Salem, may come.

Commander Aughinbaugh desires that there be large representatives from all camps in this district, that he may meet all the boys, and also all Sons of Veterans interested in this great order. Every effort has been put forth by the local camp to insure a large attendance. Judge Charles Gableman has been urged to bring in a big delegation from Waverly. John D. Roberts, of Ironton, will chaperone the Ironton, Wilgus and Proctorsville delegations; James McJunkin will lead in a good squad from Sedan and Mt. Hope. The John A. Logan Camp No. 44, of Friendship, are coming to a man, while Lois Camp No. 16 at Harrisonville and the Stockdale boys will no doubt come in force. All are welcome. The Vienna Camp members wish it known that this is no "one dollar a plate" affair, but absolutely free to all Sons of Veterans. Free us the welcome lounge up.

G. A. R. comrades and ladies of W. R. C. will be among the very welcome guests of the camp and Auxiliary.

The camp fire will be held in the spacious Ben Hur hall, Fifth and Chillicothe streets, which will be open Friday afternoon.

The full committee who will boost to make the meeting the biggest ever, and the program will be announced in a day or so. It's going to be some meeting.

CHILDREN BAPTIZED

Itzh and Rita, the twin baby daughters of Police Officer and Mrs. Frank Emmet, of Eighth street, were baptized at St. Mary's church Sunday afternoon. Their uncle, Will Emmet, and aunt, Miss Mary Emmet and Mrs. Theo. Pierson, acted as sponsors.

Lecture Course Was A Complete Success

The management of the Portsmouth High School Lecture Course is to be congratulated upon the splendid numbers offered the public this season at bargain prices. Over 1050 season tickets were sold. A more successful lecture course was never given in the city. Two hundred and fifty volumes will be purchased for the school library with the money left after expenses were paid.

Arrangements are being made for next season's course which will be more costly, $150 more being paid for the attractions, which are to be even of a higher class than the ones offered this year. J. D. Creveling, principal of the high school announced on Monday that next year's course would consist of one grand opera, two quartettes, two concert companies, one popular entertainer, and three lectures.

MEN ENTER GIRL'S ROOM; HOUNDS CAUSE ARREST

Monroe, Traylor and Dewey Moore, two North End youths were arrested by the police on suspicion of having attacked Verma, the 14-year-old daughter of Solomon Kimball, of 1020 Sixteenth street, Saturday night at 10:30.

The young men were taken into custody after Roy Lynn's bloodhounds followed a trail that led from the Kimball home to that of Traylor at No. 1132 Sixteenth street. The dogs bayed vigorously upon reaching Traylor's clothes, but seemed to pay no attention to young Moore.

Reports that the girl had been choked and thrown to the floor proved unfounded the police say. The bed-room in which the girl slept with her parents and others of the family, had simply been entered from the kitchen, the girl awakening and screaming when the door slammed against her head. Mr. Kimball awoke in time to see a fellow running from the premises. He said later he thought that Traylor looked like the person he had seen.

The boys stoutly maintained their innocence, claiming they had gone to the Scioto river west of Hempstead hospital at 7:30 and spent an hour fishing, going straight back to the Traylor home, later going to Cook's restaurant after some tobacco and after visiting the Moore home and satisfying themselves that the Moore family dog had returned, went back to the Traylor home and went to bed. Mrs. Traylor claimed the boys were in bed at 9:30. The boys themselves somewhat contradicted their statements as to the exact time they went to the river and when they returned and the police claim to have found witnesses who will testify that they saw the boys turn in at the Traylor home at 11 p. m.

The young men were questioned by Judge T. C. Deanty and Chief McCarty, Sunday, then released on their own recognizance, to appear in police court Monday. They were dismissed for want of sufficient evidence.

Woman's Health Requires Care

Women are so constituted as to be peculiarly susceptible to constipation, and their general health depends in a large measure on careful regulation and correction of this tendency. Their delicate organisms, rebel at the violence of cathartic and purgative remedies, which, while they may afford temporary relief, shock the system and seriously disturb the functional organs. A mild laxative is far preferable and, if properly compounded, much more effective.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT TRINITY BIBLE CLASS

The big class had 190 men present Sunday morning and this equalled the attendance of last Easter morning which is very gratifying to the members as there is no contest going on. But there is no mystery why the men are attending as the lessons are just teeming with interest from start to finish. After the opening ceremonies M. H. Shumway made a short talk asking for a large missionary offering two weeks from Sunday as the class want to exceed last year's amount which was $132. A record is being kept of the number of members who attend prayer meeting and last Wednesday there were 42 present. A slogan has been started "meet me at prayer meeting." The big class is getting things down to a system and several new features are being added to its work in the way of looking after the members who may be sick or incapacitated. The Pilgrim Singers will be on hand for next Sunday's session as Mr. Edwards and Mr. Metzgar will be able to again fill up the ranks of that most popular organization. The lesson was "David Anointed King." and Prof. Finney shook up the class right from the beginning. He certainly can ask some embarrassing questions and the first one right off the reel was how many had studied the lesson carefully and about 15 men stood up. But of course they paid dearly for their brief honors later on in the session. One of the first thoughts brought out by the teacher was the great value of obedience. He claimed it was greater than sacrifice, truthfulness and many other virtues. A man to succeed must first of all be obedient to those over him. It is doing all you are told and more too. A man who is just doing barely enough to hold his job or a person just being good enough to squeeze into heaven are both skating on awful thin ice and likely to make a failure. Quite a discussion arose as to how many sons Jesse had. Some claimed seven and others eight and showed good authority for both but the teacher claimed this small discrepancy in the scripture amounted to nothing and could happen in many ways. Prof. Finney asked was it right to use a little strategy occasionally. Mr. Manning said if strategy was deception it was wrong. The teacher would not define the word for him and wanted a yes or no answer but Mr. Manning twisted out of his position by giving an Irishman's definition. The next question was "Did Samuel use strategy when he took the heifer and went down to anoint David?" Capt. Billy Williamson said it was something like he used to do when he went out to round up prisoners. Chas. Bridwell, Jim Pfeiffer and George Reumler had quite a lively tilt over the age of David at this time and after the smoke

Mr. Johnson Talks On Ohio Railroads

New York, April 12—"All we have carried millions of passengers and have given them the very best traveling accommodations found anywhere in the world. These facts are testified to by the traveling public, and especially by the people of the Middle West."

"Besides the reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission, give us a free bill of health in this respect. And in the face of all these difficulties, we continue to make improvements rather than institute policies of retrenchment. Facilities for handling traffic have been greatly improved; wages of trainmen and locomotive engineers, and employees generally have been increased, while large sums of money have been expended on betterments all around."

"No man, no community, no state and no nation can endure very long without making a profit, it is a common principle of economics that one interest cannot flourish indefinitely at the expense of another."

"I may add, however, that I am pleased with my visit to Ohio," concluded Mr. Johnson, "and my talks with business men and others there on the rate situation. I am sure if our appeal to the state authorities at Columbus is properly and intelligently supported by the sentiment of the people of Ohio, if the municipal and business associations will back up the railroads in their honest efforts in this matter, the injustice that for a long time has existed will be speedily remedied."

"Nevertheless the service has been faithfully performed by the railroads despite this unjust discrimination which prevents the carriers from making even a reasonable return upon the investment. There have been few accidents on the railroads in Ohio and the adjoining states of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana during late years, yet these lines

Mrs. Holsinger Gives Birth To Her Sixteenth Child

If it is possible to locate Col. Teddy Roosevelt anywhere in the United States he ought to be notified that there is one Portsmouth family in which there is no such thing as race suicide.

That family is the one of which Thomas Holsinger, a timberman of No. 851, Mill street, is the head for the handsome little baby son to which his wife, Mrs. Susan Etta Lavender Holsinger, aged 45 years, gave birth Saturday night is the sixteenth child of that interesting household.

The new comer has not yet been christened, but will likely be named Edward Harold. The family is in rather sore straits. Just at present the husband and father having very little work and for that reason it was necessary to call in City Physician Dr. Charles Wendelken to attend the mother. Of the sixteen children Mrs. Holsinger brought into this world during her 23 years of married life, ten are living. Her oldest child, Clarence Wilford, died when about three years old. Charles Wesley, the next oldest, is 25 years of age and married. He lives at Mossy Bottoms, Ky. Mrs. Annie Melissa Hughes, wife of Walter Hughes, of Front street, is the third child of the family, and is followed by Roby Holsinger, of Tennessee, Rhoda, Holsinger, of the West Side, Clyde, Lulu, Fatma, Carrie and Ivy, at home. Those dead are: Clarence Wilford, Fred, Albert, Hester, Idella and Cleo. The family originally lived in Greenup county, Ky., but have been residents of Portsmouth for many years.

BRIDGE AND ROAD MONEY FOR GREENUP CO.

The Fiscal Court of Greenup county recently met at Greenup and held a most interesting session as the Russell Times.

The court appropriated $5,000 for the improvement of roads and $2,000 for building bridges. This appropriation was made from the general fund and is not from the amount recently voted for the building of new roads. They also passed an order that made citizens between the ages of 18 and 50 years should do as much as two days work upon the roads some time during the year. The $100 road tax was repealed and the two days work was submitted instead.

A contract was let to the Latent Bridge company, a West Virginia firm, for a bridge across Loss Creek, near Oldtown, and for a culvert at Oldtown, one at Loss Creek and another the location of which could not be learned. The contract price for the bridge and three culverts was $3,790.

Mr. T. H. Smith, a state road engineer was present looking after the state's part of the road building, for which a bond issue of $200,000 was recently voted by the citizens. An appropriation of $800 was made from this fund with which to purchase surveyor's instruments and as soon as these can be secured surveying on the proposed new roads will be begun.

After the roads have been surveyed the plans will be submitted to State Road Commissioner Terrell, at Frankfort, for his approval. The plans will then be returned to the Fiscal Court for their approval, after which the contracts will be let and work will begin immediately. Surveys of about ten miles of each road will be made and approved first and contracts for this amount will be let and contracts for the remaining parts of the road will be at a later date.

That was twenty years ago.

Young Man With Gun Got Prowler

James Sawyer, aged 21 years, son of Cad C. Sawyer, an N. & W. engineer, held up a prowler at the point of a gun at the family home 1306 Ninth street a few nights ago.

Mrs. Sawyer had been awakened by noises in the rear yard and looking out saw a man walking from the back porch towards the chicken coop. She shouted warning him to get out of the yard or she would shoot him. She was overheard by the son who quickly grabbed a gun and met the intruder as he came around to the front of the house. The fellow began pleading that he had meant no wrong and was simply looking for some young men who had been out serenading with him. Young Sawyer allowed him to go with a warning.

It was the second visit the family has had from prowlers of late and always when Mr. Sawyer is out on his run so that the family is led to believe it is parties familiar with the premises.

SONG AIMED TO CHECK WARFARE

A New York man has just put out a song which is the mirror of a mother's heart. Eliminating the commercial element, has issued it to render a national service, and, if possible, to end the horrors of warfare. A clever writer, A. Plantadosi, was engaged to construct the song. Here is a part of the chorus:

I Didn't Raise My Boy To Be A Soldier

Chorus. I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier, I brought him up to be a brave and true. Who didn't raise my boy to be a soldier, I didn't want him to be a soldier, I want him to be a man. I want him to be a man who can place a smile on his shoulder, to be a man who can make a mother's heart glad. I want him to be a man who can make a mother's heart glad. I want him to be a man who can make a mother's heart glad.

An American mother is speaking. With loyal instinct she breathes a sigh in the lines, "I Didn't Raise My Boy To Be A Soldier" because she knows well that a soldier's lot is to kill—or die. The music is so skillfully woven that the song is achieving a most pronounced popularity throughout the East.

Officer Delbert Campbell chased a chicken thief who had been operating in the vicinity of McConnell and Grandview, avenues late Saturday night, but without success. Without Gloves

Rev. McAfee handles the lesson in the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist Sunday school without gloves. The story of Saul's being set aside because he attempted to do all other business except the Lord's, was made the basis of appeal for consecration to the Lord's service, and looking after the King's business first. When Saul was rejected, David was chosen. In the carrying out of his work, God never lacks a man well qualified for service. The evil spirit which came upon Saul, and which he tried to banish in song and amusement was simply the consciousness of his own sin.

People today try the same method instead of coming to God, who alone can lift the burden.

Visitors and those attending no other Sunday school find a cordial welcome and an inspiring lesson with the Men's Bible class. A MEMBER.

The auto driver was unable to stop his car in time to prevent a collision. None of the occupants was injured.

ANOTHER GERMAN RAIDER HERE

KRON PRINZ WILHELM SEEKS SAFETY AT NEWPORT NEWS

DASHES THROUGH LANE OF BRITISH WARSHIPS OFF VIRGINIA CAPES

Newport, News, Va., April 12.—The German converted cruiser Kron Prinz Wilhelm, the second of the elusive commerce raiders of the sea for German arms, lay at anchor off here today after a spectacular dash through the lane of British and French warships which have been hovering off the Virginia Capes awaiting the expected seaward dash of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

The Kron Prinz Wilhelm occupies an anchorage in the James river at almost identically the same spot selected by the Prinz Eitel when she reached here March 10.

The Kron Prinz Wilhelm was being provisioned today. Although Commander Thierfelder had asked for three hundred of coal and supplies for three days, the federal authorities allowed him 150 tons of coal and provisions for three days.

Before she began taking on coal and supplies the Kron Prinz Wilhelm had less than 25 tons of coal and scanty provisions for the crew of 500 men and sixty-one prisoners from British merchant ships destroyed by her in the South Atlantic.

Captain Thierfelder has been given 24 hours in which to leave port unless he needed coal, provisions and time to make repairs. He was unable to determine what repairs were needed and naval officers will make an examination.

Whether the Kron Prinz Wilhelm will make another dash to sea could not be learned here early today, although Commander Thierfelder expressed the hope that he would be able to do so. It is generally believed, that he will intern his ship.

Has Sunk 14 Vessels Worth Seven Millions

Officers and crew of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm recounted today their daring tales of sea raids and destruction that rivalled her predecessor, the Prinz Eitel. During her long voyage through the Southern seas, since she slipped out of the New York harbor August 3, last, the Kron Prinz Wilhelm sank 14 ships, which, with their cargoes, are valued at $7,000,000. Nine of the vessels were British, four French and one Norwegian. Nearly a thousand prisoners were taken.

This was accomplished with only four guns, two taken from the 150 tons of coal and provisions for three days.

The Kron Prinz Wilhelm was forced to come into port because of an outbreak of the dread Beri Beri for supplies and repairs. Sixty-six of the crew and prisoners, all of the disease, were taken to a hospital today. They include 61 members of the British steamers Tanjur and Coleby, sunk recently.

(Editor's Note—Beri Beri is an acute disease generally occurring in India and is characterized by multiple inflammatory changes in the nerves, producing great muscular debility, a painful rigidity of the limbs, and cachexy. The word is derived from the Singalese "Beri" meaning weakness.)

Stereoptican Loan Library Established

Washington, D. C., April 12.—A stereoptican loan library, the first of the kind in a government department, has been established in the public health service.

Thousands of slides, showing the various activities in the work of conserving the health of the country, are to be classified, catalogued, duplicated and numbered.

Books containing them are to be forwarded to responsible persons and institutions wishing to use them in any community service. Later this public health campaign is to be enlarged by "canned" lectures, prepared addresses to be used with the slides, all to be loaned for public use.

Suspend Experiments On New Army Rifle

Washington, April 12.—In the midst of experiments with an automatic rifle which promised to be as far in advance of the present army shoulder piece as was that of the old Springfield single loader, the army ordnance department has suspended operations to await the development of the present war.

ITALIAN ARMS NECESSARY TO DOWN DEMONSTRATIONS; EMBASSY IS THREATENED

CARRY WAR MUNITIONS IN EMBASSY POUCHES; IN RUMANIAN CHARGE

Paris, April 12.—The charge that as much as $500,000 and never less than $300,000 pounds are being carried into Turkey through Rumania by German and Austrian diplomatic couriers is made in a dispatch to the Journal from Bucharest. It is said that the size and increasing number of parcels carried by these couriers recently has attracted the attention of Rumanian customs officials. The embassy "pouches" which are exempt from customs examinations, the dispatch says, some times weigh

Rome, April 11 (via Paris, April 12).—Notwithstanding orders issued by the police attempts were made today by persons both for and against intervention by Italy in the war to hold public meetings in all parts of the country.

The crowds which gathered were charged and dispersed in nearly every instance by carabinieri and troops, but few persons were wounded, although some arrests were made, among those taken into custody being Professor Benito Mussolini, the socialist leader, who favors a continuance of neutrality, and Signor Marinetti, the futurist leader, who is urging intervention.

The central sections of Rome were occupied until late tonight by troops who guarded the approaches to the Villamont, the residence of the German ambassador, Prince von Bielew, and the Quirinal.

The building most strongly defended, however, was the Austrian embassy, where troops and mounted carabinieri charged the demonstrators who evidenced by their shouts the animosity they felt for Austria and their desire for Italy to begin hostilities.

Foundation Wants Services Of Gorgas

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Sergeant General Gorgas of the army today had under consideration an offer from the Rockefeller Foundation to become a permanent member of its staff as general advisor in matters relating to public sanitation and control of epidemics.

He is particularly wanted to take charge of the medical relief expedition sent by the American Red Cross to Serbia to stamp out the typhus scourge, in support of which the foundation is co-operating.

General Gorgas is expected to reach a decision as to whether or not he will accept the offer within a few days. He probably will confer with Secretary Garrison and President Wilson about the matter.

It is said if he accepts it will be because of his belief that the only way to humanity to give the benefit of the experience he gained by successful campaigns against epidemics in Panama and Cuba.

NEW ORLEANS IS MADE RAT PROOF

Washington, April 12.—"More than half of the approximately 70,000 buildings in New Orleans have been made rat proof; there has not been a case of plague there since October 4, last, and it will not be long before New Orleans will be one of the most rat proof cities in the world," announced Dr. W. C. Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the public health service today. Dr. Rucker had charge of the eradication of the plague.

Reports today show that 315,000 rats have been caught by the health authorities in New Orleans since the anti-plague campaign began last autumn and all of them have been subjected to bacteriological examination. "All the rats caught have been identified as to species and sex," said Dr. Rucker. The species plays an important part.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR CHARGES ENORMOUS INDUSTRY IN WAR MATERIALS CONDUCTED IN U. S.

Washington, April 12.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, made public last night the text of the note he recently presented to the state department declaring that "if the American people desired to observe their neutrality, they will find means to stop the exclusive exportation of arms to one side, or at least to use this export trade as a means to uphold the legitimate ends with Germany, especially in the foodstuffs."

The memorandum was prepared at the German embassy, and the state department already has drafted one which will be delivered probably within the next few days.

The ambassador, in his complaint, informs the United States that contrary to the real spirit of neutrality an enormous new industry of war material of every kind is being built up in this country and that this is "supplying only Germany's enemies, a fact which is no way modified by the purely theoretical willingness to furnish Germany as well as it were possible."

The text follows: "The different British orders in council have altered the universally recognized rules of international law in such a one-sided manner that they arbitrarily suppress the trade of neutral countries with Germany. Already, prior to the last order in council, the shipment of contraband, especially foodstuffs to Germany was practically impossible. In fact, prior to the protests which the American government made in London on December 28, 1914, not a single shipment of such goods for Germany has been effected from the United States. Also after the lodging of the protest and as far as is known to the German embassy, only one such shipment has been attempted by an American skipper. Ship and cargo were immediately seized by the British and are still detained at a British port. As a pretext for this unwarranted action, the British government refers to a decree of the German Federal council concerning the wheat trade, although this decree only covered wheat and flour and not other foodstuffs, although imported foodstuffs were especially exempt from this decree and although the German government has given all necessary guarantees to the United States government and had even proposed a special organization in order to secure these foodstuffs for the exclusive consumption of the civilian population.

"The seizure of an American ship under these circumstances was in contradiction with recognized principles of international law. Nevertheless, the United States government has been unable to obtain the ship, nor in safeguarding the legitimate American trade with Germany. Such a delay, especially when the supply of foodstuffs is concerned, seems equivalent to complete failure."

New York, April 12.—Eben Bradles, known on the stage as Eben Plimpton, one time leading man with Mary Anderson, died in a hotel here today of pneumonia. He was born in Boston, sixty years ago, graduated from the amateur to the professional stage and made his debut in a Sacramento, Calif., stock company. He played leading roles with many stars, including the Booths, Clara Morris and Mme. Modjeska.

IN THE NEWSPAPER WORLD.

Some way the Morning Star just can't get over the fact that it started out to raise $150, once upon a time to hire a doctor and had to quit after days of vain appeals had netted it only $13. We think it unfair however in the Star to call The Times a tightwad because this great organ of the uplift did not hop in and raise the money for it, after it had failed. Of course if we had known that the Star felt that way about it, we would have offered our services and have gotten the difference between $150 and $13, turned it over and allowed the Star to go on its way rejoicing, as we always like to be courteous and neighborly with our friends.

As for being a tightwad, we have been called a good many hard names in our newspaper career, both personally and otherwise, but we have never been accused of being a t. w. before. But then you can never tell what your dearest enemies and lovingest friends will say about you behind your back and so we have quit bothering about it. We just go ahead running our paper as it seems best and most fitting to us and let it go at that. And if the Star or anybody else thinks we are a t. w. or any other old thing, that is their privilege.

But, by the way, we again call attention to the fact that the alleged policy or policies of this same Star consists in sitting around and taking notice of what The Times does and then flying into opposition no matter if it thereby lends encouragement to movements to injure itself, our home merchants, our home manufacturers, our home people of every description. Thus the Star on Friday rapped the Belgian relief proposal. On Saturday, after it discovered the attitude of The Times, it promptly reversed itself.

JUDGE CLARK--A GREAT JURIST.

It is most gratifying news to the friends over the state of the Hon. John H. Clarke, of Cleveland, to learn that he is making such an admirable record as judge of the United States District court, for the Northern district of Ohio. Mr. Clarke was an attorney of great distinction and he has the ability and tact necessary to make an equally great jurist. More than that there is that human interest about his dealings with those in his court that makes it a pleasure to do business under his direction, something that is unfortunately rare in United States courts. How Judge Clarke's attitude is appreciated by the people of his district is shown by an item that appeared in the Cleveland Plain Dealer of April 3rd. It said:

"It sometimes takes more than a minor touch to visibly set to ringing the heart chords of a United States judge in the atmosphere of his own bench."

"But Federal Judge John H. Clarke yesterday was manifestly affected when the jurymen who have been serving in his court several weeks presented him a flowering plant, with a message signed by the entire panel. The presentation came as the term of service of the jurors expired. The message read: The Honorable John H. Clarke:

We, the undersigned jurors wish to express to your honor our deep sense of the kindly consideration and courtesy shown to us by you. We appreciate highly your honor's care in telling us what the law is, what issues are involved, and we wish to declare that we value highly the manifest earnestness of your honor to hold the balance evenly between litigating parties."

"Judge Clarke thanked the jury for their message, saying he regarded the jury as such an important arm of the court that he aims constantly to show jurors as much courtesy and consideration as is given an associate judge."

Wouldn't it be the graceful and generous part of diplomacy for Secretary Bryan to send his conferees and contemporaries, The Czar of the Russias and the King of Great Britain and the Emperor of India, a keg of grape juice each? It wouldn't be a bad idea either to hold a keg in reserve for Der Kaiser against the day the German empire votes on prohibition.

In re, as the able attorney for the corporations would say, in re the matter of the Kendall avenue or some other viaduct, we now shall see what we shall see.

A tip to Warren Harding: Many an embryo statesman has been searched and withered by the hot air that blew too freely from his own mouth.

We don't blame Willis for firing the Democratic tax commissioners, but we do feel the pretext he gave for his action was about the most contemptibly small one that could have been invented.

APRIL.

OUR MONEY ON THE GENERAL.

The lower branch of the general assembly is ever so much grieved and pained at the attorney general. It whispers to an unsympathetic public that Mr. Turner is trying to run the office of attorney general and boss the legislature, but he has plenty to do in attending to his own business. Indeed, he has said it is the fool legislature that is making most of the plenty for him. The lower branch just forgets. It is the old sort of a legislature that used to afflict the state in the palmy days of Hanna, George B. Cox, Guilbert and McKinnon, but Turner isn't the same sort of a complaisant attorney general. He is Republican, all right, but just now he is an official first, attorney for the public and he is most commendably diligent and intelligent in looking after the interests of his client. It is the constitutional privilege of the assembly, which it seems desirous of working to the limit, of making an ass of itself. Mouthling at so brisk and brave a fellow official isn't justifying its own delinquency, or hiding the fact at all that Turner means to maintain the position of the attorney generalship at the standard fixed by Tim Hogan who was the best attorney general Ohio ever had.

It never rains but it pours--we are needing rain.

Of course, the Wilson administration is to blame for dull times, but it is not entitled to any credit for $1.50 wheat.

Fifteen days have gone by since Lloyds bet the war would end in sixty days; but the climax is not appreciably nearer.

U. C. T. Pay Honor To Their Deceased

Annual memorial services in honor of their departed brothers were held by the United Commercial Travelers Sunday morning at the German Evangelical church, about seventy-five of the members attending. The members assembled at the Hibbs Hardware Company's store on Sixth street and marched in a body to the church, where a session of songs had been reserved for them. Each member wore a sprig of cedar in token of sorrow.

Fifty-one members of the local Council have passed into the Great Beyond since it was founded, and as the names of each were read by the acting secretary, William Ferguson, two little girls, dressed in white, deposited a rose in a large urn in front of the pulpit.

Rer. S. Lindemeyer, the pastor, delivered the memorial sermon, taking for his subject, "The Dedicated Life" in which he maintained that the truly successful salesman was not only the one who devoted himself to the firm he represented, but who dedicated his life to the cause of Christianity. Special music for the occasion included a duet by Miss Elizabeth Pratt and John Wilhelm, a vocal solo by Miss Irma Lindemeyer, and a violin solo by Mrs. Albert Wilhelm.

ANIMAL SCHOOL
Have you ever visited Animal Town? If not, you will all like to hear Of the Animal children, their work and their play. I know you will think they are queer.

The first thing you see when you get to the town, Is the Animal School, painted drab, It sits on a hill, in a big grove of trees, And is taught by a learned old Crab.

At eight every morning, the Animals go To school, and they study hard, too, And on Fridays they sing, and each one speaks a piece, Exactly as you children do.

On the front row of seats are the Bees and the Ants, The Birds too, because they are small, And in the last row you will find the Giraffe, Because he is so very tall.

The first thing each morning they have the roll-call, Then they all fall to work with a zest, But here is a funny thing—each Animal Just studies the things he likes best.

Treeography and all its branches are taught, The Squirrels and the Birds like that best, For it teaches them which kind of trees have the nuts And which are the nicest for nests.

And ever so many more interesting things Are taught, but I don't know their names, And then when recess comes the Animals play All manner of interesting games.

But the thing that they really love best is to tease Poor Schoolmaster Crab, I'm afraid, Tomorrow I'll tell you of some of the pranks These mischievous youngsters have played.

TELLS RHEUMATISM SUFFERERS TO TAKE SALT AND GET RID OF URIC ACID.
Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. It is not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

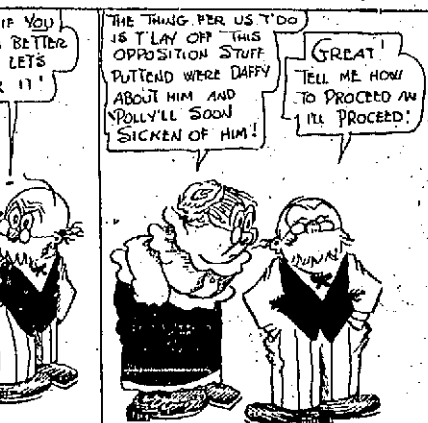

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also means of excreting the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folk who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

MEN ENTER GIRL'S ROOM; HOUNDS CAUSE ARREST

Moore, Traylor and Dower Moore, two North End youths were arrested by the police on suspicion of having attacked Vera, the 14-year-old daughter of Solomon Kimball, of 1020 Sixteenth street, Saturday night at 10:30.

The young men were taken into custody after Roy Lynn's blood hounds followed a trail that led from the Kimball home to that of Traylor at No. 1132, Sixteenth street. The dogs bayed vigorously upon reaching Traylor's clothes, but seemed to pay no attention to young Moore.

Reports that the girl had been choked and thrown to the floor proved unfounded, the police say. The bed-room in which the girl slept with her parents and others of the family, had simply been entered from the kitchen, the girl awakening and screaming when the door slammed against her bed. Mrs. Kimball awoke in time to see a fellow running from the premises. He said later he thought that Traylor looked like the person he had seen.

The boys stoutly maintained their innocence, claiming they had gone to the Scioto river west of Hempstead hospital at 7:30 and spent an hour fishing, going straight back to the Traylor home, later going to Cook's restaurant after some tobacco and after visiting the Moore home and satisfying themselves that the Moore family dog had returned, went back to the Traylor home and went to bed. Mrs. Traylor claimed the boys were in bed at 9:30. The boys themselves somewhat contradicted their statements as to the exact time they went to the river and when they returned, and the police claim to have found witnesses who will testify that they saw the boys turn in at the Traylor home at 11 p. m.

Thieves Active

When James P. Flannigan, a bartender at John Kelsa's saloon, and wife returned to their home, 1905 Eighth street, Saturday night about 11 o'clock, they discovered the house had been robbed. A suit of clothes, a pair of shoes and a .32-caliber revolver were taken. Entrance had been gained through a side door. Police were notified.

Funeral Today

The funeral of Mrs. Melvina Burris, who died Friday, will be held from the home, 1119 Ninth street, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. J. W. Dunning of the First Presbyterian church in charge. Burial will be in Greenlawn.

DR. YORK'S AUTO TURNS TURTLE

Dr. J. F. York, a Sciotoville specialist and druggist, who has offices in the First National bank building, and a party of friends narrowly escaped serious injury when his automobile, turned turtle on Dunbar hill Sunday night about 9 o'clock.

Dr. York claimed there were no danger signals displayed and he steered the machine over into the excavated part on the north side of the hill. The occupants were caught underneath the overturned car, but fortunately escaped with a severe shaking up. The top of the car was torn off, the windshield smashed and the body of the automobile badly shattered, but it was driven under its own power to E. L. Anderson's Eureka garage on Fifth street for repairs.

JAMES L. TREUTHART IS CALLED BY DEATH

James L. Treuthart, aged 77 years, who was one of Portsmouth's most respected citizens, died at his home, No. 717 Seventh street, shortly after midnight Sunday of infirmities of old age. He had been bed-ridden but two days.

Mr. Treuthart was a native of Zweimen, Canton, Berne, Switzerland. He was for many years engaged in the book and stationery business on Second street, retiring six years ago. He was quite a linguist and author, and one of his best works was the poem, "The Millard, a poem of Liberty."

For twelve years he was an examiner of the city school teachers. During the Civil war he enlisted in Company A, 10th O. V. I., August 7, 1862, and served until June 17, 1865. He was appointed corporal August 23, 1862, sergeant August 5, 1864, and first sergeant August 19, 1864. He was married November 27, 1878, to Miss Cornelia Brainer, one of the leaders in local literary and educational matters, who survives him with a large family of 15. An excellent account of his death will appear in the evening issue of this paper.

Before the meeting adjourned William Barron and Charles Wilson entertained the members with stories of their trip to Mooseheart, Ill., the national home of the Moose lodge. Moving pictures of Mooseheart will be shown during the Mother's Day program.

One rock struck Engineer G. J. Martin of this city on the head and he was painfully hurt. He was peering out of the engine cab when the rock struck him over the right temple. Several rocks were thrown at the engine and when the engine came along the unknown parties harried rocks at it and then made their escape. The incident was reported at local division headquarters in East Portsmouth and detectives were sent to the scene to investigate the affair.

A GARDEN OF GIRLS

Drawn by Eva Shepherd

Copyright, 1915, by Herbert Ponting

A rosebud garden of girls!
Girls with eyes as deep and blue as Killarney's lakes and hair of spun sunshine—girls whose eyes are deep brown pools with golden points of light, and whose tresses rival the raven's glossy wing, girls with eyes and hair full of loose moonshine and a kiss on each mouth; a queenly band crowded with burnished copper, and other with ripened corn.

Laughing, sorrowful, coquettish, haughty, tender, imploring creatures of many moods, with hearts a mystery even to themselves!
It's strange there are any bachelors at all!
It is the common wonder of all men, how among so many million of faces there should be none alike.

The Movies

Big Attraction At The Lyric

"The Warrens of Virginia" with Blanche Sweet is the Paramount for Tuesday; Edna Mayo in the "Little Straw Wife" will be an extra feature for Wednesday, and on Thursday comes the big beautiful production of "Mignon", a pretentious adaptation from the famous opera—a picture that is sure to make a tremendous hit. DRAVO CONTRACTING CO. RUSHES BRIDGE WORK

Work on the C. & O. Northern bridge across the Ohio river at Sciotoville is progressing rapidly and hundreds of people are attracted to the scene every Sunday to watch the work. Three eight hour shifts are being worked to complete the only river pier before the water again creeps up and the way the contractors are going ahead is a revelation to many.

The last batch of concrete for the base of the river pier was poured Monday. Barges, concrete mixing boat, derrick boats and a barge holding a high steel distributing tower are clustered about the cofferdam in such manner to resemble a small village. Seven small piers have been completed on this side of the river from the bank to the hill north of Gallia pike. Ohio river bank pier was completed sometime ago. Excavating has been completed for the base of the ninth small pier and the abutment on this side. A small pier south of the N. & W. tracks will be the last to be put in on this side. Derricks, concrete mixing machines and steel distributing tower have been erected on the Kentucky shore but work on piers has not started.

The inability to secure the right of way through a small tract of Kentucky bottom land is holding up work on the Kentucky side. C. & O. men here expect to have a title to the ground within a week and work will be started on piers on that side of the river. There are to be twenty-five piers and two abutments. On this side there will be one main bank pier, nine small piers and one abutment. On the Kentucky side there will be one main bank pier one abutment and thirteen small piers. Only one pier will be in the water and it is in the middle of the river.

F. R. Dravo of the Dravo Contracting company which firm is doing the sub-structure or concrete work stopped in the city a short time Sunday and looked over the work and was very well pleased with the progress already made. He came from Pittsburgh and left on N. & W. train No. 15 for Columbus Sunday afternoon.

The train was in charge of Engineer Luther Fink and conductor W. J. Marshall, of this city.
